

Introduction to Eternal Recurrence ...A Step out of Time

The most daunting aspect of life is that we are held in ignorance by a force of our own making. This force keeps us away from our own information: the information of salvation that is woven into the structure of our recurrent nature. We constantly disappear and re-appear with each cycle refreshing and re-birthing from the very beginning of time. This information is not new for it is the wisdom of the ages. It was the foundation for the pharaonic tradition and remains a dominant theme in many texts of antiquity such as the Tao te Ching. This book outlines the territory of human existence. It fleshes out the interactive principle that has kept the critical and catalytic knowledge of our recurrence under lock and key. When the door to this information is opened it will demand a re-evaluation that will shift human consciousness towards a real possibility for peace on Earth.
